

UNDER THE MOON

standard tuning

Under the moon, under the mountain
Under the whole wide darkening sky
I with my heart full as a fountain
Looked for the first time into your eyes

Child of fields, child of forests
Child of orchids purple and white
Child of tears, gift of your mother
Child of wonder, child of mine

There's a door that was always closed inside of me
And when I first saw you I could see
You had the key, you had the key
And inside, where there used to be a lonely room
Was a wide and shining sea of blue
My love for you, my love for you

Under the moon, under the mountain
Under the whole wide darkening sky
Like they were jewels and I had just found them
I looked for the first time into your eyes

Child of dreams, I'll love you sweetly
Learn what you teach me, share what I know
And I will find joy walking beside you, striving to guide you
Watching you grow

Sometimes love, like a bird out of the heart is sprung
And it goes in search like Noah's dove
To find someone, to find someone
It was you, it was you that bird had gone to seek
And it sang the day we came to be
A family, a family

Under the moon, under the mountain
Under the whole wide darkening sky
Mom and I smiled, wrapped arms around you
And looked for the first time into your eyes
