

HEAD OF THE SHED

drop D tuning: dadgbe

It appears that the sunset of man is at hand
And women are destined for taking command
They're more organized and they're smarter in school
And they're better in general at keeping they're cool

So if you're a guy with a competent spouse
You know that you'll never be head of the house
But there is a job you can do instead
You can be head of the shed

Head of the shed, head of the shed
Lord of the lawn implements
The weed wacker and the badmitton set
Will bow at the sound of your name
Head of the shed, head of the shed
The bocci balls and the old garden fence
Is that an important job? You bet!
You can be head of the shed

These past few millennia have been fun
We've been kings and generals, we've had a good run
But now women do all the things that we did
And they don't even need us for having a kid

So let's gather in drum circles and protect
The few shreds of dignity we have left
We can still sing in barber shop quartets
And we can be head of the shed

Head of the shed, head of the shed
Boss of the mower and spark plug wrench
And maybe your shed has a TV set
Cause you're still best at watching the game
Head of the shed, head of the shed
Commander of clippers that trim the hedge
It may not be much but it's all that's left
You can be head of the shed

You can be head, and find self-respect
You can be head of the shed
